

THE Other STORY OF CHRISTMAS

So, there is this story where December arrives full of calendar clashes and overtime clocking
carpark chaos and late night shopping TV specials and empty stockings feeling empty at times, we feel empty...often.

But there is this other story, whispered at this time of year the one we must unwrap wading through ribbon and tinsel amongst extravagant productions it hides in the simple and there is this girl, and there is this promise, and in the depths of her being something is growing...
